

Kentfield School District & KSPTA invite you to a...

NO BULLY

Workshop for parents & guardians

How to Bully-Proof Your Kid

November 30, 2016, 7-8:30pm
Kent Middle School Library

Each year, 30% of students, nation-wide, are the target of bullying & cyberbullying.

The Kentfield School District has partnered with No Bully (www.NoBully.org), a San Francisco-based, internationally-renowned nonprofit organization, to train teachers at Kent Middle School in the No Bully program, which leverages student empathy to prevent and stop bullying.

No Bully's Workshop for Parents is relevant to ALL Kent & Bacich families, as bullying affects the learning and school environment for ALL children. We hope you will come and learn about No Bully's program for teachers, ask questions of school administrators & counselors, and go home with action steps to reinforce the lessons your children are learning at school.

REGISTER

At this Workshop, you will:

- Receive an overview of the No Bully system & the steps the Kentfield School District is taking to become bully-free.
- Get up to speed on the new face of bullying in schools.
- Identify the warning signs of bullying & cyberbullying.
- Build skills to prevent your kid from becoming a bully or a target of bullying.
- Be reminded of bullying behaviors that can be inadvertently modeled by adults.
- Learn how to coach your child through the common conflicts & bullying of youth.

About the Speaker

Nicholas Carlisle – a psychotherapist, lawyer, and “No Bully” founder & CEO – has worked for the last decade to bring effective anti-bullying strategies to schools. An expert legal witness, media commentator, and seasoned conference & TEDx speaker on school bullying, Nicholas shares compelling data & practical solutions to make school communities compassionate & bully-free.

NO BULLY

